Volume 27 Issue 3 – October 2022 (2nd Edition)

Bell ringing in memory of
HER MAJESTY, QUEEN ELIZABETH II

We have 20 towers in our District and nearly all were involved in some way in ringing for HM Queen Elizabeth on one or more days between Thursday 9th September and Monday 19th September.

Bellboard and an excellent email response from the towers shows around 180 different ringers took part.

Quarter Peals were scored at several towers including Barnet, The Abbey, St Peter's, St Michael's, Sandridge and Welwyn.

This 2nd Edition is issued to correct a few minor errors/omissions.

Comments from the Towers (in no particular order):

BARNET:

Rung to celebrate the Proclamation of His Majesty King Charles III.

God Save the King!

Monday 19th: Rounds and Call Changes for one hour

David C Ely, Nancy L Surman, Derek Epstein, Catie Davies, Howard Davies, Kate Giddens, Ron Giddens, Fiona Facey and Adrian P Sweeting.

ESSENDON:

Colin Rees writes: We rang double muffled which took 45 minutes to make safe except the one on the tenor was mistakenly tied on the hand stroke as opposed to the back! We did the hour mixing periods of rounds, queens, call changes and every available ringer including our learners were given a ring including my daughter, visiting from Australia who had not pulled a rope for 9 years. Considering the muffling, the striking was excellent, and we felt, a fitting tribute to our badly missed late Queen

Ringers: Elaine Savage, Ann Piggott, Vanessa Spragg, Paula Marshall, Lyn Orr, Hilary Scott, Stephen Healing, Emma Rees, Susan Rees, Colin Rees, Cas Blackman.

ST PAUL'S WALDEN:

Tim Liddell writes: We rang at 10am on Friday 9th for one hour half muffled and then again at 10am on Monday 18th for one hour half muffled.

I rang the tenor 7.30 to 8pm on Sunday 17th to mark the minute silence.

We had nine new ringers.

Ringers at St Paul's Walden.

Obituary

By John Williams

Mary Gregory (22nd April 1939 – 29th March 2022)

Mary was born and raised in Prestwood, a village in Buckinghamshire in the Chiltern Hills, about two miles west of Great Missenden and six miles north of High Wycombe. She met her future husband David in Oxford in 1959 when she was training as a Child Care Officer and David was reading physics at Brasenose College. One of Mary's friends persuaded her to help with costume preparation for an Oxford University Dramatic Society's performance of "The Birds" by Aristophanes and David was busy working on the lighting equipment. Within a few weeks they had fallen for each other and decided they wanted to marry. After Mary had qualified as a Child Care Officer in 1962, they married at Holy Trinity Church, Prestwood, Bucks, and settled in Welwyn Garden City where Mary had found a job in the Children's Department. From Welwyn Garden City it was easy for David to commute into London and possible to visit both sets of parents – in Buckinghamshire and Wimbledon. David was working in an engineering role for the BBC.

On arriving in WGC David and Mary immediately became members of St Francis's Church and initially both sang in the choir. Their son, Jonathan, was the first child to be baptised at the 9.15 Family Eucharist in 1964 and their daughter Frances followed in 1967.

In 1968 the family moved to New York where David was the Senior Engineer in the BBC office which was in Rockefeller Center in downtown Manhattan. Alistair Cooke recorded his weekly "Letter from America" there.

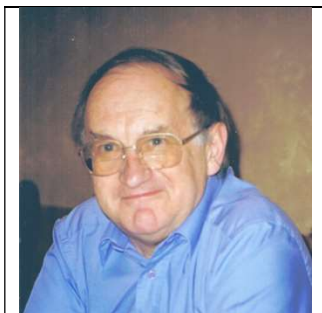

Their period in the USA covered the time of the Apollo Moon Missions, for which they still had some of the press packs. David organised communications for outside broadcasts for the BBC and was in the press corps at the Kennedy Space Center for various Apollo missions from 8 to 15 including 11 and 13. Before Apollo 13 went wrong there were few press people there at first as it was not "news" any more. David had to find what facilities he could for correspondents in journalists' area, which was noisy. On one occasion Charles Wheeler broadcast live into the BBC radio news kneeling under a table with a wastepaper basket acting as a noise shield for his mike. When Mary and David visited the Kennedy Space Center in 2001 with their grandchildren David took his original Apollo 11 Press badge with him, which provoked a good deal of interest among both staff and other visitors. Returning to WGC and to St Francis Church in 1971, David worked in BBC communications i.e. all its internal networks, not broadcasting, becoming Head of Engineering Communications Development. They bought a lovely house in Guessens Road in 1972.

In 1979 David left the BBC and joined British Aerospace in Stevenage, where he built up a group and expertise on satellite communications, including TV broadcast by satellite in the early days of what eventually became Sky Television. (Rupert Murdoch bought a 65% stake in Satellite Television Ltd in 1983.) 1979 saw the publication of the book "Satellite broadcasting" with David as a joint author. Having become the Director for the Space and Communications subsidiary of British Aerospace, David retired in 1992 when British Aerospace terminated its satellite activities. David and Mary then began a private consultancy under the name of Masmus Ltd., in telecommunications and sound recording and providing the engineering for an independent producer making programmes for Radio 4. There were several series of "Random edition" (presenter Peter Snow) and "Master Musicians", (approximately 80 programmes in all). All the programmes were produced at their home in Guessens Road which was adapted to provide a sound studio (in the sitting room) and a control room in the office. They also made professional music recordings for Guild and ASV labels at several locations, recordings for Toddler Tunes, and transcriptions onto CD for the pianist Philip Fowke and organist Peter Hurford.

After 35 years as members of St. Francis Church, Welwyn Garden City, in 1997 David and Mary began attending St. Mary's in Welwyn. They responded to an entry in a service leaflet seeking bell ringers and started learning to ring in September 1998. Mary was nearly 60 and David was 61. In a short time, they became very enthusiastic and to make up for their late start, they went on all sorts of courses. They went on the Essex course to learn Bob Doubles; then Bob Minor and Cambridge Minor with Phil Gay at Keele and Stedman Doubles at the Marches Teaching Belfry with John Turney. They also went on annual ringing holidays with John Turney from 2001-2006 and took the Welwyn Band there in 2002. David and Mary also rang regularly at practices at Datchworth, at St. Stephen's, St. Albans (for about 3 years) and at Lemsford.

David Gregory

Mary became Tower Secretary at St Mary's in 2002 and David became Ringing Master in 2003. In 2003 David was successfully operated on for bowel cancer and made a good recovery. He continued ringing until his death in 2009, aged 72. By the time he died he had rung at 220 towers.

After David's death Mary eventually sold her house in WGC and came to live in Welwyn Village centre, a short distance from the St Mary's Church. Mary continued to ring in Welwyn and regularly at Datchworth and Lemsford. She continued to ring at Lemsford until 2017. Eventually she was forced to give up because of back problems and a difficulty with her left hand grip. Mary was later diagnosed as suffering from the rare degenerative disorder PSP. The Welwyn band rang for her memorial service at St Mary's on 25th April and also tolled the tenor bell. During the service a delightful recording made for Toddler Tunes featuring both Mary and David's voices was played.

At the end of the service the congregation listened to a recording of Nunc Dimittis, sung by the choir of St Francis of Assisi, Welwyn Garden City, with the solo by David Gregory.
